Course

De Smet, South Dakota

Instructor: IGSHPA Accredited Trainer, Michael Hunt

3 Day Course, $900.00 if received 10 days before scheduled class date.
($950.00 if received after 10 days). Limited Class Size. Fee includes all Books,
Exam, three year IGSHPA membership and noon and evening meals.

Why Attend:

Demand for geothermal equipment and technology has never been stronger and as energy prices increase so does the demand for geothermal products. Customers ask for geothermal more now than ever. High efficiency and clean energy solutions are prevailing in every industry. There is no doubt that geothermal/geoexchange will continue to grow in popularity.

More than ever, prior to being asked to bid on a project or to be involved on a residential or commercial project, engineers request IGSHPA accreditation along with consumers wanting to know if they are dealing with trained and experienced experts.

Successful participants will be listed on (IGSHPA) International Ground Source Heat Pump Association websites as an IGSHPA Accredited Geothermal Installer.
